

Cascadilla Boat Club

Ithaca, NY

Presents the fourth annual
CAYUGA CHALLENGE
ITHACA, NY SUNDAY SEPT. 21st, 2003

The Cascadilla Boat Club is hosting the Cayuga Challenge, a 3333 meter head race, on the protected waters of the Cayuga Inlet in the beautiful Finger Lakes of Central New York. With launching facilities near the finish line, competitors will be able to watch as well as race this course. If you race at the Seneca Invitational on Saturday you'll be thankful for the shorter distance.

Race information, Registration information, Order of Events, and driving directions are all included below

DIRECTIONS:

The course is located in the City of Ithaca. Take Route 13 from the northeast, Route 79 from the east and Routes 96 or 89 from the northwest. The course is located off Route 89 in Cass Park, just north of the bridges crossing the inlet (race course).

Coming from all routes but Route 89 from the north, you must get on Route 89 from Buffalo, Seneca or State Streets. Turn on Route 89 north (Taughannock Blvd.), cross the bridge and take your first right into the park drive. From Route 89 from the north, come into the city, past the boat launch and skating rink (large aluminum barrel roof), and take your first left onto the park drive. Regatta signs will be posted.
